NOTE

SOME of the Grails and Alleluyas in this little volume appeared in 'A Selection of Offices, Grails & Alleluyas,' published eight years ago. Since then, a complete collection of the Offices (Introits) has been issued separately. To meet an increasing demand for greater variety in the department of ornate Plain-Chant, a larger and more representative selection of Grails and Alleluyas is now put forth, to which most of the Tracts for Septuagesima and Lent have been added.

It should be mentioned that, while the Sarum musical tradition has been consistently followed in these adaptations, other MSS. (mostly English) have also been consulted, especially in cases where the true reading seemed doubtful: also that the quilisma, though not found in English MSS. of the xijth cent. onwards, has been occasionally introduced in note-groups where an ordinary square note would have conveyed an incorrect notion of the phrasing.

The Grails and Alleluyas which were given in the previous Selection have now been thoroughly revised, and the composite-groups in all cases have been carefully spaced, in accordance with the latest researches.

DIRECTIONS

THE GRAIL is intoned (except on Double Feaſts) by two boys from a lettern, the Quire repeating the Intonation, & continuing as far as the ℣. The boys chaunt the ℣., after which the Quire repeat the firſt part. But if it is thought deſirable, this repetition may be diſpenſed with, in which caſe the Quire will join in the laſt few words of the ℣., as indicated by the double bar. On Double Feaſts the place of the boys is ſupplied by three Clerks, and the repetition after the ℣. is not made, except when the ſenſe of the words requires it (cf. p. 61).

The ALLELUYA is intoned by two Clerks from the ſame lettern as that uſed for the Grail. The Quire repeat Alleluya, and continue with the neuma. The Clerks chaunt the ℣., the Quire joining in the final words, as ſhewn by the double bar. The Alleluya is once more intoned by the Clerks, the Quire continuing with the neuma only.

From Low Sunday to the Feaſt of Pentecoſt incluſive the Grail is diſcontinued, and two Alleluyas with their ℣℣. are ſung. When this happens, the firſt Alleluya is not repeated after its ℣., but the Clerks proceed at once to the ſecond Alleluya, the Quire continuing with the neuma only. After the ſecond ℣. the Alleluya is repeated as at other times. But when a Sequence follows, the final neuma is omitted.

The TRACT is normally ſung by four Clerks, ſtanding at the Quire-ſtep, and intoning it all together. The latter part of the firſt verſe, and all the ſucceeding ℣℣. are ſung alternately by two and two, all joining in the laſt few words of the laſt ℣., as ſhewn by the double bar. But on Aſh Wedneſday, Palm Sunday and Good Friday, it is ſung by the whole Quire, verſe by verſe, from ſide to ſide.

far from my health, and from the words of my com-plaint. ℣. O my God, I cry in the day-time, and thou hear-eſt not: and in the night-ſea-ſon al- ſo I take no reſt. ℣. But thou con-ti- nu- eſt ho- ly, O thou worſhip of Iſ- ra- el : our fa- thers ho- ped in thee ; they truſt-ed in thee, and thou didſt de- li- ver them. ℣. They call- ed up- on thee, and were hol-pen : they put their truſt in thee, and were not con- founded. ℣. But as for me, I am a worm, and no man : a ve- ry ſcorn of men, and the out-caſt of the peo- ple. ℣. All they that ſee me laugh me to ſcorn : they ſhoot out their lips, and ſhake their head, ſay- ing : ℣. He truſt-ed in the Lord, that he would de- li- ver him : let him de- li- ver him, if he de- light in him. ℣. They ſtand ſtar-ing and look-ing up- on me : they part my gar- ments a-mong them, and caſt lots up- on my veſ- ture. ℣. Save me from the mouth of the li- on : thou haſt heard me al- ſo from a- mong the horns of the uni-corns. ℣. O praiſe the Lord, ye that fear him : magni- fy him, all ye of the ſeed of Ia- cob. ℣. It ſhall be coun-ted to the Lord for a ge-ne- ra- tion : and the hea-vens ſhall de- clare his righ- teouſ-neſs.

man : & pre-ſerve me from the wick- ed man. ℣. Who i- ma- gine miſ-chief in their heart : & ſtir up ſtrife all the day long. ℣. They have ſharp- en-ed their tongues like a ſer- pent : ad-der's poi- ſon is un- der their lips. ℣. De- li- ver me, O Lord, from the hand of the un-god- ly : and pre-ſerve me from the wick- ed men. ℣. Who are pur-po- ſed to o- ver- throw my go- ings :

the proud have laid a ſnare for me. ℣. And ſpread a net a-broad with cords: yea, and ſet traps in my way. ℣. I ſaid un-to the Lord: Thou art my God: hear the voice of my prayers, O Lord. ℣. O Lord God, thou ſtrength of my ſal- va- tion: thou haſt cover-ed my head in the day of bat- tle. ℣. Let not the un- god- ly have his de- ſire: let not his miſ-chie-vous i- ma-gi-na-tion proſ- per, leſt they ex- alt them-ſelves. ℣. Let the miſ- chief of their own lips fall up-on the head of them that compaſs me a- bout. ℣. The righ-teous al- ſo ſhall give thanks un-to thy Name: and the juſt ſhall con- ti- nue in thy pre- ſence.
